

NSS PLANTATION DRIVE

The National Service Scheme (NSS) Unit of Loreto College, Kolkata organised a Plantation Drive on July 09, 2024. The drive consisted of 14 NSS Volunteers who planted around 35 saplings of ecological benefit such as those of Neem, Debdaru, Tulsi, Aloe Vera, Crotons, Chinese Tagar and Erica Palm. These saplings were planted at a variety of locations in and around college premises.

The drive allowed the volunteers to understand the importance of planting saplings and also enabled them to gain valuable insight about making our city greener as the new and responsible youth of today. It also taught the volunteers some skills like gardening.
