

Loreto College, Kolkata
Department of Geography
Interactive Career Counselling Session
In Collaboration with Internal Quality Assurance Cell
Navigating Futures: Success in Entrance Examinations and Careers in Disaster Management
January 04, 2024

The Department of Geography, Loreto College, organized an Interactive Career Counselling Session on Navigating Futures: Success in Entrance Examinations and Careers in Disaster Management on January 4, 2024.

The resource person was Aditi Kumari, Program Associate, Humanitarian Aid- Disaster Risk Reduction, Caritas India, New Delhi. Ms. Kumari is a professional handling complex tasks and challenges in diverse contexts with expertise in disaster management, humanitarian aid operations, and social development projects. She is an advocate for sustainable development and committed to bring a positive change through innovative solutions for resilient communities.

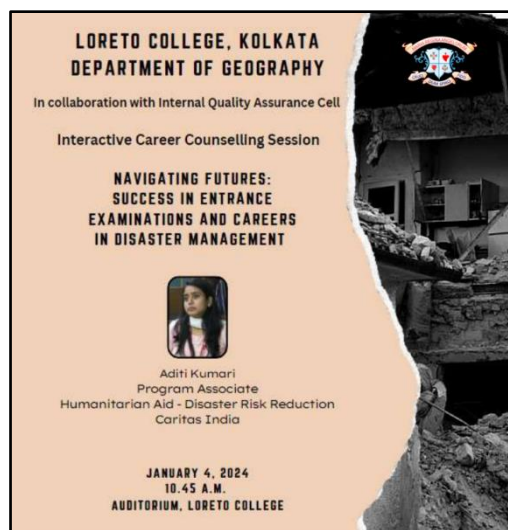

Learning Objectives

- ✚ Provide guidance for preparation of CUET PG (Common University Entrance Test Postgraduate)
- ✚ Explore various career options in the field of Disaster Management
- ✚ Offer insights into the current trends and demands of the job market related to geography and disaster management

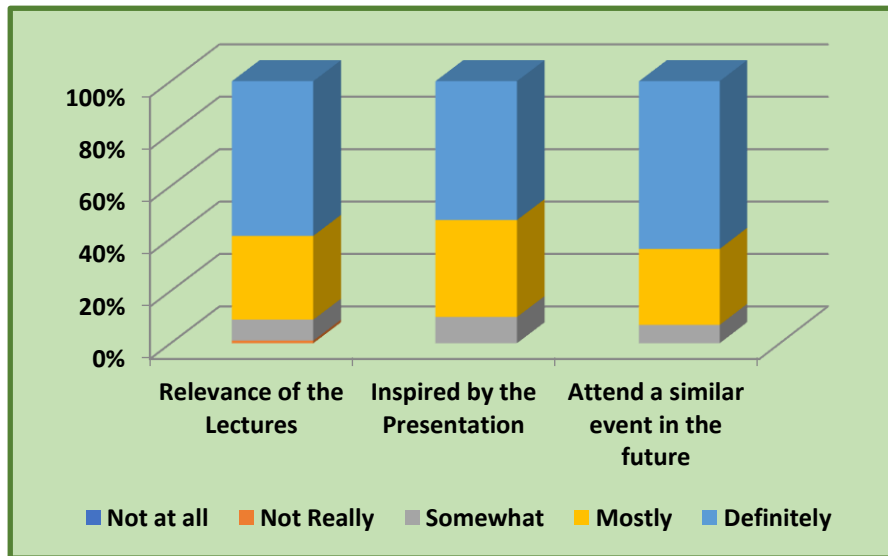

Learning Outcomes

At the end of the session the participants were able to:

- ✚ Make meaningful and informed career choices
- ✚ Comprehend the exam structure and effective study strategies
- ✚ Address the concerns and challenges related to CUET PG preparation
- ✚ Evaluate the diverse areas within the discipline of Disaster Management as a career option

FEEDBACK

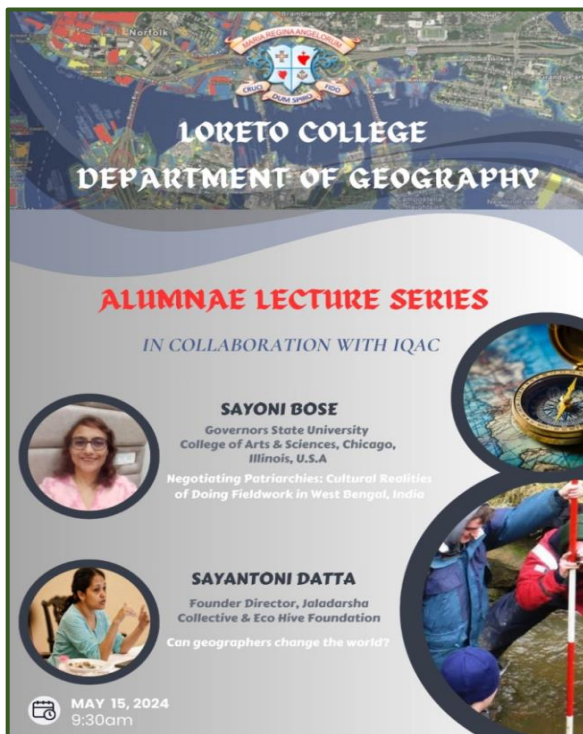

Total Participants – 88
Total Respondents - 88

Loreto College, Kolkata
 Department of Geography
 Alumnae Lecture Series
 IQAC Initiative
 May 15, 2024

The Department of Geography, Loreto College, Kolkata organized the annual Alumnae Lecture Series on May 15, 2024.

The resource person for the First Lecture titled Negotiating Patriarchies: Cultural Realities of Doing Fieldwork in West Bengal, India was Sayoni Bose, Ph.D., Associate Professor, Governors State University, College of Arts & Sciences, Chicago, Illinois, U.S.A.

Learning Objectives

- To shed light on challenges native postcolonial feminist scholars face while conducting fieldwork
- Explore the strategies deployed to negotiate the patriarchal, cultural, and institutional structures while doing research

Learning Outcomes

At the end of the Webinar the participants were able to:

- Understand the dynamics of conducting fieldwork
- Comprehend how fieldwork is culturally emplaced and what agency looks like vis-à-vis patriarchy in the field

The resource person for the Second Lecture titled Can geographers change the world? was Ms. Sayantoni Datta, Founder Director, Jaladarsha Collective & Eco Hive Foundation.

Learning Objectives

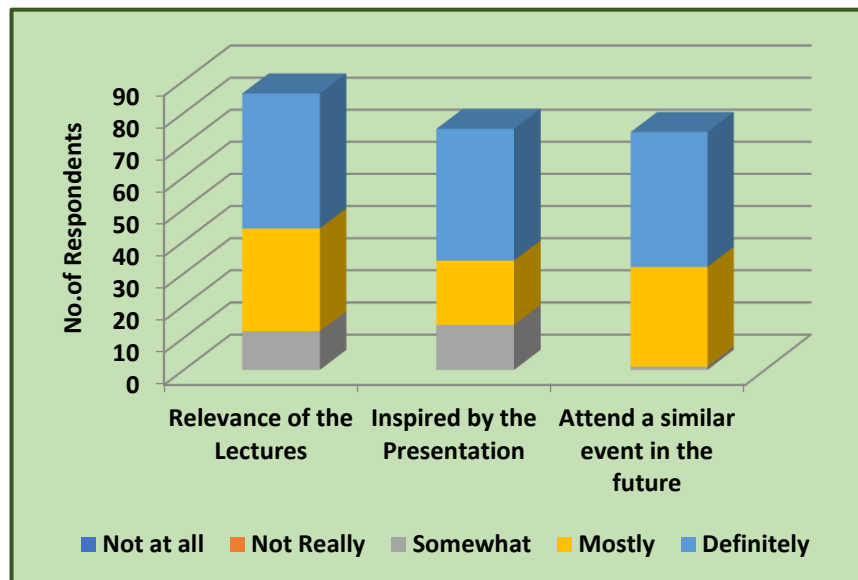

- Focus on the practitioner approach to social issues
- Highlight the various aspects of geography in praxis around environmental and social justice
- Encourage students to think about the applied aspects of the discipline

Learning Outcomes

At the end of the Webinar the participants were able to:

- Understand the significance of the practitioners approach and the role of geographers in interpreting and offering solutions to challenges faced across the world
- Comprehend the relationship between environment and social justice

FEEDBACK

Total Participants – 77

Total Respondents – 75